Welcome to the December 2010 edition of the Radio HF Internet Newsletter and the end of the 12th year of publication of the Newsletter. Time flies when you're having fun, doesn't it?

As we come to the end of the year, why not make a New Year resolution to make the effort to contribute a web site to the Newsletter, even if only once a year. There are thousands of subscribers to this free Newsletter, literally around the world. Imagine if each of you submitted just one webpage a month. We would have enough material to easily get us through another year. All this to say that your input is greatly appreciated, particularly by me, as it makes my job as editor and publisher so much easier.

I'll take this opportunity to thank everyone for their input, support and cooperation throughout 2010. I would like to wish all of subscribers a very happy holiday season, whatever you choose to celebrate at this time of the year. May the holidays be happy, safe and healthy for you, your family and friends.

As with each December edition, our Monthly Special Zone features a number of sites relating to the upcoming holiday season. If you only check out one link in this edition of the Newsletter, I encourage you to look at the video link for "Hardrock, Coco and Joe". I won't say more! Let me know what you think.

Our virtual voyage around the world, in the "Where in the World Zone", this month takes us to a northern region of the planet and the country of Iceland. Iceland is a European island country in the North Atlantic Ocean on the Mid-Atlantic Ridge. It has a population of about 320,000 and a total area of 103,000 sq. km. (39,769 sq mi). The capital and largest city is Reykjavík, with the surrounding areas in the southwestern region of the country being home to some two-thirds of the national population.

Let's get to our listing of interesting sites this month. Again, enjoy the holiday season. We look forward to the New Year 2011.

THE MONTHLY SPECIAL ZONE

NORAD SANTA TRACKER

http://www.noradsanta.org/ <http://www.noradsanta.org/>

We include this web site each and every year in December. This multilingual site is one of the most visited pages every Christmas period. The North American Aerospace Defense Command (NORAD) turns it attention to tracking the worldwide voyage of Santa each year. Millions of people, particularly the children of the world, use this site to follow Santa as he makes his Christmas Eve trip to homes around the world. Check in early on Christmas Eve. So, join in with your kids, grandkids and all children at heart in this annual event. Accessing the site can often be difficult, so be patient.

<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hardrock,_Coco_and_Joe>

Those of you who know me well will understand my fascination with this! This short animated classic from the mid-50s, upon first playing and viewing, is seemingly a simple Christmas time story but the more you watch it, closely, it becomes somewhat strange, dark and mysteriously hypnotic. There are actually many webpages on the Net dedicated to analyzing this piece, almost frame by frame! And the songyes, the songit will be imbedded in your brain for days, weeks, even months to come. Get through the first few viewings of this and you'll be cursing me out for the rest of the year. Here is the link to the YouTube clip of Hardrock, Coco and Joe. Enjoy.I think!

NEW FROM YAESU

Yaesu FTM-350AR APRS Mobile Transceiver

The Magnificent FTM-350AR is the renewal of Yaesu's high-end, Large Dot matrix, VHF/UHF Mobile APRS Transceiver. The Dual transceivers, Huge Screen, detachable head and the GPS/APRS capabilities have made the FTM-350A an exciting new entry into the Amateur Radio APRS world.

Newly improved user friendly functions make replies and editing of incoming/outgoing messages easier. The vacuum cup-mounting bracket with angle adjustment has been redesigned. The New FTM-350AR incorporates newly developed technical performance using the worldwide-accepted GPS NMEA format data. Navigation to another APRS BEACON station is possible, even if the beacon station is moving.

All of the features and functions of the New FTM-350AR are available to owners of the previous FTM-350R. Just download and install the V1.2 software from the Yaesu website.

This new Yaesu unit should be available any day now. For complete details on pricing and availability, please contact Radio HF.

Since this web site serves a similar purpose on the Internet, thus the name. If you are interested in having fun with AM amateur radio, feel free to browse around this site. You'll find all kinds of info on favorite AM frequencies, nets, technical information, photos, a bulletin board, and even AM audio.

NEW! RADIO H.F. BOOK REVIEW ZONE

REMOTE OPERATING FOR AMATEUR RADIO

By Steve Ford WB8IMY

ISBN# 978-0-87259-092-2

ARRL Order #0922 - $22.95 U.S./ $25.95 CDN.

A growing concern in my area is the number of older hams who have essentially had to give up ham radio because they have moved into restricted covenant communities. The same can be said for folks who live in apartments and condominiums that make ham radio a difficult activity. That said, we hams are a resourceful lot. And never forget that folks in our hobby were in on the ground floor of the personal computer movement. Modern computer technology and the more recent transceiver systems make it possible to enjoy amateur radio from virtually any location by way of remote control.

Steve WB8IMY covers the topic of remote operation exhaustively in this, his latest of many fine ham radio books. He goes through the current technology and gives complete information on how to integrate hardware, software and Internet connectivity to make it possible to enjoy every aspect of ham radio from anywhere you can make a computer connection.

It doesn't matter if you are trying to make a radio work from across the room or across the continent. Steve's book is an essential tool to get any remote ham station up and running in high style.

By the way, what applies to hams here can also be made use of by SWL folks as well. How cool would it be to be able to set up your listening post somewhere far away from the city noise but still control it from your living room?

Highly recommended!

This publication is available from http://www.arrl.org/shop <http://www.arrl.org/shop> , from Radio HF, or your favourite radio publications dealer.

REPORTERS WITHOUT BORDERS

http://en.rsf.org/ <http://en.rsf.org/>

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

In some countries a journalist can be thrown in prison for years for a single offending word or photo. Jailing or killing a journalist removes a vital witness to events and threatens the right of us all to be informed. Reporters Without Borders has fought for press freedom on a daily basis since it was founded in 1985. Reporters Without Borders: defends journalists and media assistants imprisoned or persecuted for doing their job and exposes the mistreatment and torture of them in many countries; fights against censorship and laws that undermine press freedom; gives financial aid each year to 100 or so journalists or media outlets in difficulty (to pay for lawyers, medical care and equipment) as well to the families of imprisoned journalists; works to improve the safety of journalists, especially those reporting in war zones.

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

Canada's National Film Board offers up this classic short film showing how to make an igloo using only snow and a knife. Two Inuit men in Canada's Far North choose the site, cut and place snow blocks and create an entrance--a shelter completed in one-and-a-half hours. The commentary explains that the interior warmth and the wind outside cement the snow blocks firmly together. As the short winter day darkens, the two builders move their caribou sleeping robes and extra skins indoors, confident of spending a snug night in the midst of the Arctic cold!
